

Rescind U.S. Orders That Schools Change To Coal

$38,885.43 of Taxpayer's Money Needlessly Spent; Local Ration Boards Grant Requests for Fuel

After the Lower Merion School Board had spent $22,346.16 for the preliminary work of converting the oil burning equipment in the schools into coal burning equipment it learned last week that it wouldn't be necessary.

In addition, it will cost the School District $16,039.16 more to replace what has been done which means that a total of $38,885.32 of taxpayers' fund have been expended for naught.

Also, the School Board has on its hands the balance of $140,000, which it borrowed to complete the work. On top of this, several contracts for materials and work exist, which may mean counter-claims and legal entanglements.

To consider these things members of the School Board held a special meeting this week in Ardmore. To their credit seems to be these facts:

1. They acted in good faith on government order that it would be necessary to convert from oil to coal.

2. That the government and not the School Board changed its mind when it decided that even though the Petroleum Administration ordered the change that the War Production Board would not grant the materials necessary to make the changes.

3. That it will save at least two-thirds of the money borrowed if the persons and concerns with whom they contracted are reasonable.

4. That the anticipated increased cost of $25,000 to operate the coal equipment in the schools would be saved.

Meanwhile, after numerous conferences had been held; the $140,000 bond issue executed and the work started Washington changed its mind. On August 20 word was received in the office of Superintendent of Schools, F. A. Dubois, (Continued on Page 2)

The Grist Mill

Ralph Dunne, Narberth fuel dealer, and an articulate spokesman for the problem confronting small business, spent a couple of days in Washington last week which included a conference with Under Secretary of Commerce Wayne C. Taylor on the subject of legislation now pending in Congress designed to aid small business. While Dunne doesn't approve of the Government spending money to do things which small business men should do for themselves, he feels that if such a program is going to be carried out, it should receive the cooperation of the country's small businesses. "The big problem," he says, "is to make such a program as scientific as possible. It is largely a matter of education. Field representatives, really business counselors, should go around in order to do an effective job," he maintains. Dunne found Washington rather dead and lifeless, due he thought, to the fact Congress was not in session.

William D. R. Evans, 205 Woodside Ave., spent the first day of his vacation kern-toning his kitchen. "It's great stuff and easy to apply," he reports. . . . Jane Henderson, of N. Narberth Ave., is the attractive gal who took over Betty Grace's job in Dunne's office. . . . Carl B. Metzger, Jr., cashier at the National Bank of Narberth, will head the Narberth committee for the 3rd Loan Drive which opens September 9. . . . Vacationing: William H. Durbin, realtor and Narberth Draft Board member; John A. Mowrer, Jr., clerk in the County Controller's office at the Court House. Real Estate Men Form Association

Walter D. Stewart, real estate attorney, of the Philadelphia Real Estate Board, was honored at a meeting of the board, on the evening of August 25, by having the Walter D. Stewart Alumni organization named for him by Edward A. Clarke, Oak Rd., Merion, an associate of the F. E. Caballero Organization, Meeting House Lane, Merion.

At the first meeting of the Alumni, Clarke was elected president. Furthering the real estate man's knowledge of his own business is the object of the association, which will meet monthly.

Unger Resigns from High School Faculty

Elmer E. Unger, 54-year-old physical director at Ardmore Junior High School and instructor of special beach reducing classes at Ocean City during the summer months, has been dropped from his school post.

Unger's resignation, requested by the Lower Merion Township School Board, was accepted August 12, at a special meeting of the Lower Merion School Board.

Frank DuBois, superintendent of the township's schools, said Unger's job would be filled by Ralph Miller, of Harrisburg.

Unger was arrested on July 30 in his Ocean City apartment with Mrs. Roma Warner, 32, of Bala-Cynwyd, whose husband owns a jewelry store in the Suburban Station Building.

Both were released in $200 bail each pending action by the Cape May County Grand Jury when arraigned in Ocean City.

Scouters Schedule Training Conference

A limit of 400 attendance has been set as the definite maximum number, so early registration is advisable. Council and District campfires will be in the schedule of events, as well as church services Sunday.

Each district will be responsible for its own transportation to and from camp.

RELIEF PAYMENTS DROP

Sergeant Donnelly Back From Guadalcanal, Hopes To Make Army His Career

After two years and seven months in the service, four months of which were spent on Guadalcanal dodging Jap bombs and fighting the mud and mosquitoes, the husband of a Narberth girl is seriously considering making the army his career.

He is Sergeant Harold Donnelly who is married to the former Virginia Ranking and spent a furlough recently with his wife at the Rankin's home, 318 Chestnut Ave., Narberth.

Recent Lower Merion High School graduates will remember him as one of the leading members of the cast in several Gilbert and Sullivan operettas staged at the school. He was inducted in the Army in January, 1941, received his initial training at Camp Meade and then spent more than a year in Texas. Last Jan. he was shipped to the west coast and then to Guadalcanal via Caledonia.

It struck him somewhat funny, after crossing Arizona in a blacked-out train and leaving a dimmed-out port on a blacked-out ship to arrive eventually in New Caledonia with no blackout, except when a "condition red" was reported.

One of the most vivid memories of Guadalcanal is the mud. Another is the mosquitoes. Washing clothes in a river there wasn't so bad except for the time when he saw a white object in the water which turned out to be a human skull, a reminder of the bloody fighting which took place there a few months before.

Sergeant Donnelly, whose family lives on Cheswood Lane, Haverford, saw no Japs save a few in the prison stockade as they had been virtually all cleaned out by the time he arrived. Jap bombers, however, continued to pay their respects. On one occasion he ducked into a slit trench just before a 500-pounder exploded 150 yards away. The visit of a Jap night raider who broadcast to the American troops as he prepared to lay his eggs on the Island also sticks in his mind. The Jap used to drive a taxi in Brooklyn and was very proficient in English. "Well, here I am, boys," he used to say. "I've got eight of 'em here to lay and I don't want to start until you are all ready down there. I'll cruise around for a bit first. Well, I can't wait all night, so here comes number one." This followed until all eight were laid, whereupon the Jap would say, "Well, so long, I'll see you tomorrow night."

A useful souvenir Sergeant Donnelly brought home is a wrist watch bracelet fashioned of aluminum salvaged from a Jap Zero shot down on the Island. Some of the aluminum salvaged bore markings "Made in the U.S.A.," he said.

En route home after four months there—he was in G-3 operations and training—he covered a 1000 miles of the journey in a few hours aboard an Army transport plane, his first ride in an airplane, to New Caledonia, only to wait around there 12 days for further (Continued on Page 3)

Autocar Receives "E" Star Award for Production Record

The Army-Navy "E" Star Award has been conferred on the Autocar Company, of Ardmore, by Robert P. Patterson, under-secretary of war, in a letter to Robert P. Page, Autocar president. The Autocar Company was one of the first war plants in this area to receive the original award more than a year ago.

The "Star" award means that the record of production performance has been maintained by Autocar to the satisfaction of the Army and Navy officials, and that a white star can now be shown on the Army-Navy "E" pennant as it is displayed by Autocar at its various plants that are directly engaged on war work both in Ardmore and Philadelphia. It also means that all Autocar employees, who have been hired since the date of the first award, are now entitled to receive and wear the lapel pins which the Government provides for that purpose.

DENOUNCES TAX INCOME EVADERS

Says Adults Can Start Boys' Work By Good Examples

If adults are really interested in boys' work they can start by setting good examples in their daily lives, members of the Optimist Club of the Main Line and Haverford Township, heard at their luncheon meeting in Ardmore last Tuesday noon.

Men and women set the pace for their youngsters in dodging ration restrictions, beating their income taxes and cheating on their gasoline allowances declared Alva S. Phillips, member of the Wilmington Optimistic Club and District Governor No. 2 of Optimist International.

Phillips, who was the guest speaker, said that Optimist International was the only service club that increased its membership in 1942.

The speaker stressed the importance of boys' work and said that Optimists had made great strides in this direction during the past year.

It was natural, he said, that boys looked up to their fathers and other men as their patterns of personal conduct. He said that boys would behave very much in the way of their boy's world as we behaved in the adult world.

Manoa and Brookline Seek Revenge For Their Defeats In Playoff Openers

Reputations didn't mean a thing in the opening games of the preliminary playoffs in the Main Line Baseball League last week. George Joseph and Bob Allison, voted the League's outstanding pitchers during the regulation season, were treated so rudely by their respective opponents that both of Haverford Township's representatives—Manoa's defending champions and Brookline—wound up behind the eight ball.

Narberth gave plenty of evidence as to why it finished in first place by rubbing Joseph and his Brookline mates, 6-1, in an interesting game at Community Field, Narberth. At the same time Allison was banged around by an enroused Pen-Mar club for 11 hits and a 6-4 ten-inning decision over Manoa at Manoa and Darby Rds.

The same teams will clash on the same diamonds in the second games of the best-three-games-out-of-five series on Sunday. There will be no

OPA AUTHORITY WAS ROTARY SPEAKER

Oil and Tires Discussed at Weekly Luncheon on Tues.

The currently crucial topics of oil and rubber were discussed this week at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, held at the Overbrook Golf Club.

Introduced by the president, George W. R. Kirkpatrick, Barney Fischer outlined the evolution of the oil industry and recalled that Lewis J. Levick, of Bala, built the first oil pipe line. The new "Big Inch" pipe line, he said, delivers 300,000 barrels of oil every 24 hours.

Fischer introduced Wilfred L. Blanchet of the OPA Mileage Rationing program, who likened the OPA to the sales organization of a large firm. He stated that OPA is given a quota of oil, gas and tires and must distribute it equitably.

"We should bear in mind," he said, "the huge military needs for gas and oil. In one raid on Berlin, 850,000 gallons of gasoline are consumed."

Blanchet advised all motorists to be especially careful of tires. For the next three or four months, he said, the rubber situation is going to be very serious. He recommended that tires be replaced when needed so that the tire carcass is kept in good shape.

Termining the Third War Loan Drive, "The greatest drive for dollars ever attempted anywhere at any time," Co-chairman Bonaffon and Harral expressed appreciation of "the fine spirit of co-operation shown by many individuals" which enabled the Lower Merion-Narberth organization to get down to business immediately with virtually a complete organization.

At Wednesday's meeting Captain Bonaffon stressed the extreme urgency and importance of the work about to be undertaken. "To raise $15,000,000,000—the national quota—from non-banking sources means that every citizen must do his part," Captain Bonaffon said. "It is our job to see that the facts are placed before each citizen and to make it convenient for him to sign up for his bond."

Harral laid emphasis on the need for full coverage of the homes in the local area if the township and borough quota of four and one half million is to be reached. "Our organization must be one that reaches every household," he (Continued on Page 3)

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

NON-PARTISAN VOTERS ASKED TO SUPPORT WALZER

To the Editor

Sir: The citizen who registers as a non-partisan is apt to believe that his impartial procedure affords him a greater degree of political freedom and community usefulness than is otherwise possible. He suffers a disadvantage, however, when it comes to those neighborhood matters which are subject to party machinery and where the primary nominations are equivalent to elections.

The prospects are that in due course this condition will be remedied and that the voter at the primaries may call for any ballot he or she prefers, the same as is done in Wisconsin and elsewhere.

Certainly Narberth's selections of its town officials should be free from any taint or trace of "politics" and those who, with commendable spirit, offer their services as members of Council, or as tax-collectors, or as magistrates, would be the first to look askance at any suggestion that they should put their party allegiance ahead of their obligation to the public welfare.

In any event, so-called non-partisan citizens may not vote at the local September primaries, despite the strictly neighborhood aspect of the contest, which means in this case that Fred Walzer will lose a vote. There is a deep conviction, however, that he should be nominated and elected and not being able to help the cause in a direct manner, I shall accept what I regard as an insistent duty, for the benefit of Narberth, to aid otherwise as best I can. It is hoped that others on the non-partisan roll will act in like manner to offset their inability to cast their own vote for Fred as Narberth's "County Squire" in the best sense of the old-fashioned term. J. J. CABREY.

league, to exactly three hits, two of which came in the first inning.

Pen-Mar bunched six hits, five of which came in succession with only one out, for four runs in the first inning, but Manoa, profiting by three bases on balls, came back in its half to score two runs on Ted Westervelt's sharp grounder that went through short. Manoa's cause looked hopeless until the last of the ninth, when Williamson walked two and both came home to tie the score on Drulick's two-base miff of Pinch hitter Charlie Spellman's easy roller to second.

Undaunted by this turn in their fortunes, Pen-Mar came back with the winning run in the tenth when Pinch hitter Irish Kelly walked, took second on an infield out and scored on Stan Pawella's second double of the contest.

Joe Krauss paced Pen-Mar with three hits while Walt Jamison, left fielder, provided the fielding highlight with a one-handed catch of a drive by HayBrewster that appeared destined for a home run or triple. Westervelt registered two of Manoa's slim allotment of hits.

HOUSE AND HOME by Mary E. Daque

Too many families have got into the habit of eating a light breakfast, failing to realize the importance of this meal that actually breaks our fast of 18 hours. The stomach has been without food all this time and at the breakfast hour it needs re-fueling, so to speak.

There's no getting away from the fact that a cup of coffee and a piece of toast is poor preparation for the morning's work and that it will handicap us for the whole day. Before noon and lunch time we become unduly tired and empty—so hollow that we aren't hungry. Or if we do feel the pangs of real hunger we eat far too much for comfort and spend that afternoon struggling with sleepiness.

Breakfast should contribute about one-third of the day's food needs. In these days of food rationing, the right breakfast makes the planning of the rest of the meals easier because if an adequate meal is eaten, foods which are among the "Basic 7" so essential for the day's nourishment are included in the diet. A breakfast of fruit or fruit juice, cereal with whole milk or cream, toast or rolls with butter or enriched margarine and a beverage provides four of the seven basic food needs and if eggs are added another food group is in the picture.

Cereals are of prime importance today because they are inexpensive, unrationed, plentiful and packed with nourishment. From a nutritional standpoint it makes little difference whether the cereal is hot or ready-to-serve so each member of the family can enjoy his favorite dish. But hot or cold, the cereals served should be those which give the whole grain values—iron, niacin and vitamin B1. The amount of protein in a bowl of cereal and milk is very much worth while in these times when other high protein foods such as eggs, cheese and meat may be scarce and certainly will be more expensive than cereals.

There's such a variety of cereals available that monotony can easily be avoided.

HIGH NOTES

by
DAVID MALICKSON
Class of 1945—Lower Merion High School

Hi students! Well here we are on the threshold of another school year. What it has in store for you—the sophs and juniors of last year or for you students who will be members of the class of '46, no one knows. All of us are starting with a "clean slate" and at this point of the game all have an equal chance. What you yourself will write on your "slate" will determine how pleasant a stay you will have at L. M. this year. Possibly you will become a student council member, president of your class, star on the athletic field, member of the Hi-Y organization or an active participant in any of the many other activities offered at Lower Merion.

However, you must remember that you get out of something only what you put into it; and so it is at Lower Merion. You, the students, must remember this, for if you find yourself "slipping" or not happy in your new "home" then by all means enter into some school activity and thereby help boost your moral and your school.

If you should happen to become president of the student council, a member of the Hi-Y or an outstanding member in any other school activity won't you please inform us so that we may tell the "outsiders" about you and your achievement.

As for you, parents and friends at Lower Merion Senior High, we hereby promise to do our utmost to bring to your attention as quickly and as accurately as is possible, all the latest happenings in this, one of the finest high schools in Pennsylvania.

Furthermore, students, if your fraternity or sorority, class or club is planning a dance, meeting or some such affair why not use this column to publicize it? Remember this is your column—the link between the school and the home. Each week we will endeavor to print a list of the week's coming events. Here again is another service that you may use to inform or remind the members of your club of the dates of meetings, etc.

School, as many of you already know, is scheduled to reopen on September 8; teachers reporting the day before, September 7. New students—as soon as you arrive at L. M. look on the lists which will be posted on the bulletin boards in order to find out the number of your home room. If the number of the room should happen to start with the letter "A" then you must cross the ramp into the administration building, for all rooms with this letter will be found in that building. During the first few half days, new students are urged to become better acquainted with their teachers and with the layout of the Senior High School buildings.

When your writer visited the high school a few days ago, he was very much impressed with the new Memorial Aleeve now being built, in which will be placed pictures and names of Lower Merion's brave men and women in the armed service. The memorial is being built in the alcove on the office floor where the boys' lockers were. The lockers which were there have been placed along the corridor for rooms number 101-103.

asserted. "The sale of a $25 bond to a person whose absolute limit is that, is just as important to the success of the drive as the sale of any bond of a larger denomination," he continued.

Gardiner, the Ardmore district chairman, explained the various issues and the mechanics of converting pledges to bonds. "In your 'basket' you have a Government security to meet every investment need and every size pocketbook," he told the workers. "No one can say, 'Sorry, but you don't have my size. You can fit them all.'"
Dr. Howard Wayne Smith, executive director of the Lower Merion Council of Defense, pledged assistance in the drive from the Civilian Defense organization, pointing out that in certain sections air raid

Newcomers to Narberth: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gedalecia and their young baby, to 105 S. Narberth Ave.; Mr. Gedalecia, a lawyer, is employed by the SEC. John McKay and family, formerly of Cynwyd, to the same apartment house, managed by Cowland Brothers. Henry A. Reese and family, formerly of Reading, moved this week to 321 Merion Ave., the house occupied by John H. Eldson, who moved to Whitemarsh, Durbin and Howard's reports. The same firm is authority for the information that Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Odiorne have purchased the Hoffman House at the corner of Windsor and Forest Avenues. The Odiorne, former residents of Narberth, have been living in Paoli for a few years.

A resident of Narberth who moved away this week was Mrs. Andres Iglesias, who lived for more than two years at 103 S. Narberth Avenue. Referred to erroneously by some neighbors as "the Spanish widow," she was neither Spanish nor a widow. A Floridian, she had a southern accent you could cut with a knife, and she was the wife of the former Spanish Consul in Philadelphia, who was recalled to his native land more than two years ago and had been unable to return here or have his wife join him since. Now, according to reports, he has been appointed Spanish Consul at Havana where his wife and their attractive young daughter, Gabriel, will join him.

The repairs being carried out by Pennsylvania Railroad workmen at Narberth Station provide convincing evidence that the Penns has no intention of erecting a new station at Narberth—at least until after the war. Worn and rotted timbers are being replaced in the structures on both side of the tracks and repairs made to the steps on the north side leading up to Narberth Ave. Bridge.

Add moving: Roy I. Gowland, of 401 S. Narberth Ave., moved this week to Cynwyd. His change in residence means no change in his business affiliation as a member of Gowland Bros. (real estate agents).

wardens will serve as workers for the campaign.

ORDER OF INDUCTION

"The selection of men needed for the armed forces and the deferment of men required for agriculture, war production, and war supporting activities are much more difficult than in the days when we had men from which to choose," said Major Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, in a recent letter to local boards. He said available men will be called for induction in the following order: (1) single men without dependents; (2) single men with collateral dependents; (3) married men without children; (4) men with children (nondeferable activities and occupations); (5) men with children.

"STANDING ROOM ONLY"

If you are planning to take a train trip over Labor Day, you probably will have to stand in the aisles, ODT officials say. Passenger trains throughout the U.S. continue to run heavily loaded, with standing in the aisles occurring frequently on some trains, particularly at week-ends.

RUBBER FOR RECAPS

Rationing restrictions on the use of Grade "C" camelback for recapping have been removed, according to OPA. Grade "A" camelback, previously available for only the largest truck and bus tires, may now be obtained for recapping tires on all trucks and buses although it is still subject to rationing.

transportation. Although the weather was very humid on Guadalcanal, he was more impressed by the heat in a St. Louis railroad station.

Donnelly, who was in the class of 1938 at Lower Merion, gained a reputation in show business before his induction in the Army. His work at Lower Merion led to parts with the Junior Theatre Guild in Philadelphia, with the Mae Desmond Players, on the radio and with other dramatic groups.

But the Army appears to interest him as a career more than the stage at present, and he is hopeful that he will be able to stay in after the war. He left Narberth last Thursday for Fort Benning, Ga., where he entered the Infantry Officers Candidate School there.

He has three ribbons on his chest, the "Before Pearl Harbor" service ribbon, the South Pacific

Service ribbon and the good conduct ribbon.

3RD WAR LOAN DRIVE FOR INVASION

Put a circle around the date—Thursday, September 9th. For that's the day the 3rd War Loan Drive starts.

On that day, you will be asked to go the limit to back our valiant fighting men. You will be asked to do your share in the greatest invasion the world has ever seen. Answer your country's roll call!

Your part is to back this invasion by investing in at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond in September. That's in addition to your regular War Bond purchases. Invest more than $100—a lot more—if you possibly can.

The job is big. Everyone must do his full share if we are to put this drive over the top.

War Bonds are the safest investment in the world. For your own sake, for your Country's sake, put every spare dime and dollar in War Bonds during the 3rd War Loan Drive.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

ABOUT

O. P. A. PRICE PANEL

Each week in this same space the Price Panel of the Ardmore War Price and Rationing Board will attempt to answer the most frequently asked questions about the Price Panel—what it does—how it works—what it is expected to accomplish.

Q. Does the Maximum Price Regulation cover the cost of Services?

A. Yes. Every Service business, like every retailer and wholesaler, has been mobilized and is on the front line of our war on inflation.

Q. Are rates and charges for all services fixed?

A. No. A list of 61 services is on file in the Ardmore Board, for which a definite ceiling must be estimated.

Q. What is the basis for computing cost of services?

A. The highest price charged during March, 1942.

Q. If no charge was made for a certain service on that date what can be charged now?

A. The charge now may be the same as for a similar service most nearly like it.

Q. When can a service be called "similar" to another?

A. One service shall be deemed similar to another service if the first has the same use and purpose as the second and belongs to a type which would ordinarily be supplied for the same price.

Q. What services are exempt from the Maximum Price Regulation?

A. A list may be found in the files of the local War Price and Rationing Board.

Q. If a dealer finds the price of a service abnormally low, has he any recourse?

A. Yes. If this abnormality subjects him to substantial hardship he may make an application for adjustment of the maximum price.

Q. Are you puzzled about calling prices? Have you questions to ask?

A. The Price Panel invites inquirers and will answer in this space. Write to Price Panel, War Price and Rationing Board, 66 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, Pa.

Washington, D. C. (NWNS)—Beef, taxes and gasoline seem to be the chief subject of controversy on the domestic front on the eve of the reconvening of congress. Many congressmen have returned to Washington for the new session which opens September 14—and they have returned with a determination to do something about the situation which, on their visits home, they have found to be most disturbing to the people who elected them.

Congressmen who are now in Washington say that the people at home have nothing but praise for the way the war has been conducted so far. But there is no doubt left in the minds of our representatives in this city that the people are expecting them to take fast action to improve many disturbing conditions on the domestic front.

The food problem is probably the most irksome of all to the majority of people, congressmen have found. The people don't object to rationing as such—and they are willing to go without scarce foods which are needed by the armed forces—but they are sick and tired of black markets and of scarcities in the midst of plenty.

The beef situation is typical of those which have aroused the ire of the American people. Reports from the cattle states make it clear that there is now a record supply of beef on the ranches—enough to supply the needs of the men in uniform, to give some to lend-lease and still have enough left over to fill the average needs of the people at home. But due to impractical pricing regulations plus black market operations, beef not only isn't reaching the people but is also scarce in army camps. A lot of beef is being sold on the ranches pending a better price arrangement and a large percentage of the beef which is slaughtered is finding its way into black markets. Congressmen will probably investigate this situation immediately and will demand a remedy.

Gasoline, although not as serious a problem as food, is being used by the people as an example of poor handling and poor management of a war problem. Congressmen say that their constituents don't mind cutting down on gasoline consumption, but they strongly object to the week-to-week uncertainty to which gasoline rationing has been subjected ever since rationing began. And the people in the East were vehement in their protests over the recent gasoline "drouth" which immediately followed news that their gasoline problems were going to be lessened.

Although congress won't have time to do anything about the tax situation before the September 15 estimates and payments are to be filed, they will probably look into the tax complications as soon as they reconvene. They will, first, try to work out plans for simplifying present tax collection methods which threaten to cause a revolt among tax-payers unless simplification is worked out immediately.

The second tax problem which congress must solve is how to collect more tax money. The treasury has demanded that government revenue be increased by many billions. Although congress would prefer to avoid this subject altogether, the President and the treasury

New Type Ship, Frigate, To Be Used for Convoys

WASHINGTON. — The navy announced that a new type of twin screw, heavy duty corvette, designated as the "frigate," now is in service and that scores will be built for use on North Atlantic convoy duty.

The vessels have an overall length of 303 feet and a beam of 37 feet 6 inches. They are of simpler design and easier construction than the destroyer escort ships already being constructed by the score for anti-submarine service.

Use of the term "frigate" restores a name made famous in early American history. The first American frigates were authorized by congress in 1794.

ury will probably force them to take some action. It is unlikely that new taxes will be put through before the end of the year, but when they do go through they will probably apply immediately. The most likely tax at present appears to be a sales tax on everything but food.

Duck Fond of Lake, but Owner's Car Appeals, Too

PUEBLO, COLO.—A full-grown mallard duck, Alex, was raised by Winitred Wood.

With the advent of spring Miss Wood decided to release Alex in Pueblo's city park where numerous wild mallards frolic.

Alex took to the lake, but as Miss Wood entered her parked car she heard a noise. It was Alex, racing toward the car. She opened the door and Alex jumped in.

280 Hollanders Die in Penal Camps, Report Says

LONDON. — Dutch underground newspapers reaching here reported that 280 Dutch prisoners had died in German-operated penal camps in the last five months and said Netherlands judges threatened to stop sentencing criminals unless camp conditions improved.

Aneta, Dutch news agency, said the judges had demanded that the Ommen camp be closed or transferred from German to Dutch supervision.

THE OLD NARBERTH SPIRIT IS ASSERTING ITSELF IN BEHALF OF FRED WALZER

The living circumstances which prevail in a community can seldom be the result of chance . . . desirable conditions must be made to happen.

To secure what it wanted, Narberth has never hesitated to do what was necessary to achieve its aims . . . as a case in point, it has borrowed and paid four or five times more money per capita, in bond issues for town improvements, than was so in the countryside about it.

As a result of its consistent outlook with respect to neighborhood factors, and to the things-at-large that give zest to home-town residence, a definite theme has been developed in the Borough which can be expected to manifest itself on every appropriate occasion.

In other places, for instance, the election of the Justice of the Peace might not be regarded as a matter of any particular importance . . . but in Narberth it is alertly recognized that the Borough Magistrate must at many times be the spokesman of the people's spirit and that there should be great diligence in selecting the person well fitted for the official post of guardianship.

Hence it is that the Borough citizens unyieldingly reserve to themselves the right to name the man who can best serve their local needs and who will most adequately correspond with that format which is the bed-rock of Narberth's procedure.

Hence it is that FRED WALZER is not only the Republican candidate for Justice of the Peace, but he is also the first preference of the Citizens' Committee which sponsors this advertisement . . . and which presumes to assert that it puts neighborhood values far in advance of any mere personal or political equations.

A vote for FRED WALZER at the Primary elections, Tuesday, September 14th, 1943, will be a vote to maintain and safeguard the Narberth theme . . . and it is hoped there will be a numerous turnout to attest that excellent purpose.
